WHAT BAGS ARE RECALLED

2004 & 2005 Cannondale BHB322 "Crossroads" and BHB320 "Perimeter" handlebar bags are subject to a safety recall. The bags are black in color with the reflective graphic designs shown above.

WHY THEY ARE RECALLED

The recalled bags have improperly made plastic handlebar mount quick release parts. (SLEEVE and SUPPORT far right above). The bags may fall off the bicycle. If the bag falls off the bicycle, it may distract you or may fall into some part of the bicycle or in front of the bicycle. There is a risk of a fall or accident, and you may be seriously injured, paralyzed or killed. Cannondale has received one report of an accident with serious injuries.

WHAT SHOULD I DO?	CONSUMERS: If you have one of the bags shown above, stop using it and return it to a Cannondale Retailer for a free replacement. IF YOU NEED HELP IDENTIFYING A BAG, PLEASE CALL 1-800-BIKE-USA.
	CANNONDALE RETAILERS: 1. Please post this notice in a prominent store location so it may be seen by consumers. 2. Stop selling the bags and return all unsold bags to Cannondale. 3. Contact customers who have purchased these bags and ask that these bags not be used and be returned for a free replacement.

NOT SUBJECT TO THIS RECALL

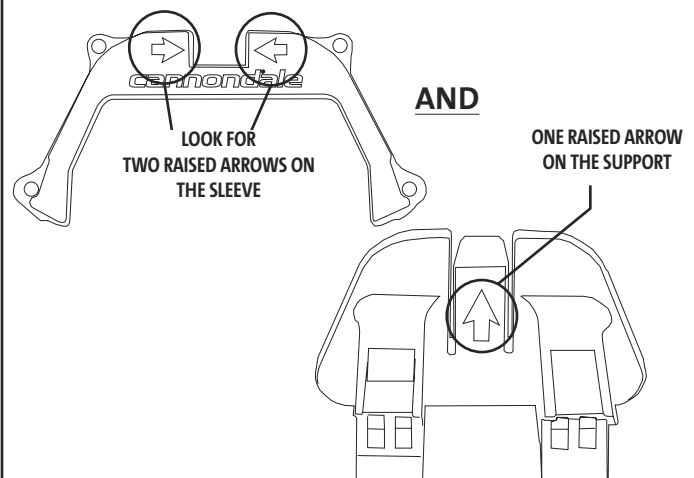

Please note that older (1986 – 2003) Cannondale quick release handlebar bags are NOT subject to this recall.

The older Cannondale quick release handlebar bags were U.S. made and had a small American flag sewn into an outer seam and/or had a Cannondale made in USA tag on an inside seam.

The older Cannondale bags had different logos and different reflective trim. Please examine the picture above.

Only the bags shown in the picture above are subject to recall.

2004 or 2005 bags having quick release parts matching those shown below are not subject to recall.
