Reason for the Recall
The Cannondale C1 carbon front brake on these 210 bikes may have been installed with a recessed allen nut that is too short resulting in insufficient thread engagement. The brake can detach from the bike.

Is My Bike Being Recalled?
This is a directed program where we need to reach owners of about 210 bikes world wide. The serial number of each of these bikes is known. Authorized dealers have a listing of the serial numbers of affected bikes shipped to their store. Owners of these particular serial numbers should have been contacted by their Cannondale retailer and/or Cannondale.

What Should You Do?
Owners of these bicycles who wish to check if their bicycle is included in this program should note their serial number and call Cannondale’s toll free number: 800- BIKEUSA (245-3872) between 9am and 7pm ET Monday through Friday. Owner’s, particularly those outside the U.S., may also e-mail custserv@cannondale.com

WARNING
AN INCORRECT RECESSED ALLEN NUT CAN RESULT IN INSUFFICIENT THREAD ENGAGEMENT WITH RISK OF SERIOUS INJURY OR DEATH.
